FINAL ENACTMENT OF FARM AID BILL SEEN ON SATURDAY

Larger Chamber Passes
Inflation Rider by 307
to 86 and Sends Parent
Agriculture Relief Measure to Conference.

6 BILLION NEW CASH MAY BE RELEASED

Joint Committee Will Seek To Adjust Farm
Bill Differences Before
End of This Week.

WASHINGTON, May 3.—(AP)—With a roaring chorus of ayes, piling up a vote of 307 to 86, the house today approved the Roosevelt currency inflation plan and sent its parent, the big farm relief bill, to conference with prospects of a presidential signature by Saturday night.

The inflation rider, which now has complete congressional approval, will allow President Roosevelt, among other things, to expand currency and credit by as much as $6,000,000,000 in addition to altering the gold backing of the dollar by as much as 50 per cent.

Senate and house conferees will hold their first formal meeting tomorrow in an effort to agree upon several scores of differences in the farm relief measure. Leaders hold hope of obtaining quick agreement in order that the legislation may be finally approved and sent to the White House by Saturday.

Roosevelt Wants Speed.
The administration is anxious that it be expedited so that it can be placed into immediate operation for the aid of farmers, hundreds of whom are threatened with the loss of their property.

Action came on the inflation amendment in the house today after it disagreed to all senate farm relief amendments and sent them to conference. Six hours of debate on the proposition was completed last night. Representative E. A. Tamm, of New York, the republican leader, chief opponent of the inflation proposition, demanded a separate vote on the expansion rider. Speaker Rainey, in reply, said that the measure, although it had been the democratic plan to force a single vote on the entire bill.

Without further ado, the roll was called. Thirty republicans and four farmer-laborites joined 273 democrats

Fox, Slayer of Capt. Coburn, Freed After Serving 9 Years

Philip E. Fox, former Ku Klux Klan publicity man, released on parole Wednesday after serving nine years for the murder of Captain William S. Coburn, is shown above as he looked on his arrival in Atlanta from Milledgeville Wednesday.

Philip E. Fox, who shot and killed Captain W. S. Coburn here almost 10 years ago as a climax to a bitter internal struggle in the Ku Klux Klan, Wednesday was freed on parole by Governor Eugene Talmadge. The prison commission unanimously recommended Fox's release.

Fox had served nine years of a life sentence at the state prison farm and, according to the prison commission, his record was "unexcelled by any prisoner who ever served in the penal system of the state."

The former Klan leader was paroled to Dr. Hiram W. Evans, imperial wizard of the Klan. Dr. Evans promised to give him employment at a salary not less than $75 a month. Dr. Evans listed his business as that of a printer.

Fox arrived in Atlanta from Milledgeville late Wednesday. He said he would remain here for the present.

"Of course, I'm glad to be a free man again," Fox said. "However, I must say that I have nothing but the kindest regards for the officials of the prison. They treated me excellently."

ITALY, ARGENTINA DISCUSS TARIFFS

Stabilized Exchanges and Lower Duties Talked with Roosevelt.

By F. G. VOSBURGH.
WASHINGTON, May 3.—(AP)—The Roosevelt administration drove forward tonight with its effort to enlist Italy and Argentina in a program of lower tariffs and stabilized exchanges, and the same time sent down with some concern the new Anglo-Argentine trade agreement.

President Roosevelt and his state department aids sat down with the Italian representative, Finance Minister Guido Jung, at the executive offices for a thorough discussion of world economic conditions and possible remedies as the next imperative step in the political situation in Europe as well.

Mussolini's spokesman was disposed to agree at least in principle with the American contention that definite reductions in trade barriers as well as concrete moves toward standardization of exchanges must be made if the world monetary and economic conference at London June 12 is to inaugurate a new and more prosperous era.

The Italian representative sought

Roosevelt To Outline Policies On Business Recovery Tonight

WASHINGTON, May 3.—(AP)—A broad campaign progressed today at the capitol for immediate stimulation of business which President Roosevelt regards as the next imperative step for national recovery.

Tomorrow night the president will take command of forces which worked today at the capitol and at the annual meeting of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States and outline his policies for recovery to the business leaders.

All proposals today pointed toward a temporary relaxation in government regulations to permit agreements within industry on production, wages and hours of labor.

The president is considering a request to congress for authority to supervise such action during the pe-

PARIS WILL FIGHT DOLLAR'S DECLINE WITH HIGH SURTAX

France Clings To Gold Standard But Will Seek To Check Imports From United States.

PARIS, May 3.—(AP)—Clinging stubbornly to gold in the face of President Roosevelt's dictatorial monetary powers and the battle between the dollar and the British pound, the French government is planning a 15 per cent surtax on American goods should the dollar go as low as 20 francs.

A decree imposing the surtax has been drawn up and is ready for signature. Similar measures already are effective against British and Japanese goods, against which France considered former tariff measures ineffective because of the depreciation in British and Japanese currency.

The currency problem comes at a time when the question of the budget is pressing. Premier Edouard Daladier will have his hands full in both the senate and the chamber of deputies during consideration of the budget the next few weeks.

The senate, which starts the debate tomorrow, is strong for deflation in expenses, while the chamber, more inflationist in tendency, will fight strenuously against further cuts.

The battle between the dollar and the pound still was in progress today, the dollar losing 11 centimes and the pound advancing 10. The dollar closed on the bourse at 21.65 francs. Sales by the Bank of France of borrowed sterling played an important part in exchange movements.

French holders of American bonds are urging the government to protest to Washington because their coupons will not be payable in gold. The financial press says the government is likely to intervene and remarks that French bonds held in the United States are being paid in gold as stipulated. Two government issues due June 1 will be honored in this manner.

Only a few American bonds are held in France.

LABOR BODY URGES BEER FOR GEORGIA

State Federation Urges Talmadge To Call Session on Issue.

SAVANNAH, Ga., May 3.—(AP)—Georgia Federation of Labor by a roll call vote of 45 to 25 adopted a resolution this afternoon requesting Governor Talmadge to call a special session of the legislature for the purpose of legalizing the sale of 3.2 per cent beer.

Louis P. Marquand, Atlanta, moved that the convention wire Governor Talmadge requesting the special session and this was acted on favorably.

The action came somewhat as a surprise as it had been announced that the beer question would come up at tomorrow's session. Previous efforts to put the state organization on record in favor of beer have failed.

The convention opened this morning.

McMillin Nomination To Be Studied Today

WASHINGTON, May 3.—(AP)—Chairman Bulow, of the senate civil service committee, said tonight the committee will meet tomorrow to consider the nomination of Mrs. Lucile F. McMillin of Tennessee, to be a member of the civil service commission.

Bulow said he had received no protest on her nomination and had heard nothing of a rumor that the appointment might be held up.

The committee will at the same time consider the nomination of Harry B. Mitchell, of Montana, to be chairman of the commission.

Atlantans' Fancy Is Captured By Amazing Jinky Contest For Three Thousand Prizes

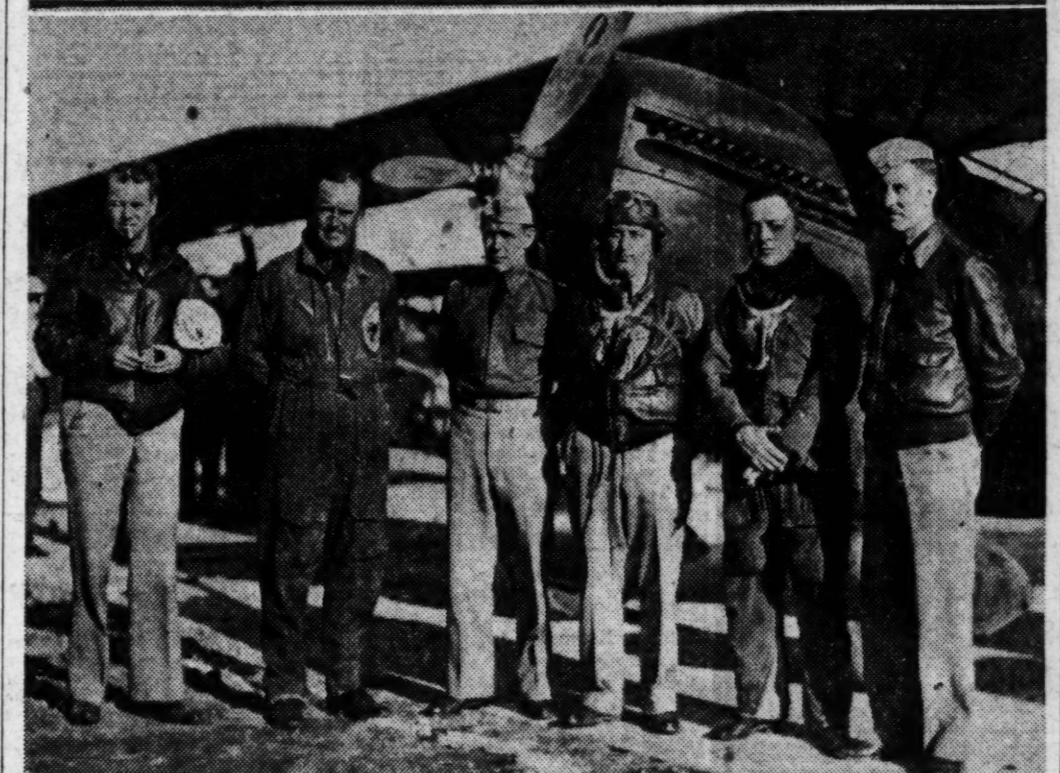

By THE JINKY EDITOR.
Wednesday was Atlanta's first Jinky Day, and what a day it was. Foreign debts, the moratorium, 3.2 beer and the depression were forgotten. Jinky came to town, and thousands were smiling as they visited the various co-operating stores and gathered a supply of Jinkys to cut, and enter in the contest for the 3,000 prizes.

The Jinky editor is looking forward to a busy day next Wednesday when contestants bring their entries to headquarters to compete for the first week's prizes.

It looks as if Jinkys will be more popular than either crossword or jigsaws were at their height, and the 3,000, which captured the fancy of several, will be dwarfed into insignificance by Jinky.

Stores co-operating reported that collections were very heavy and that persons paying on accounts asked for their Jinky receipts. Store traffic was far above normal, and many of the stores phoned headquarters for additional Jinkys and Jinky receipts.

46 Fighting Planes Swoop Down on Atlanta; Bombardment Group To Fly Over City Today

Atlanta was treated to a colorful spectacle of the air Wednesday afternoon when 46 army planes, bound for the Pacific coast, flew over the city in formation and landed at Candler field for the night. Some of the officers in charge of the big fleet of war birds are shown above. They are, from left to right: Captain J. T. Hutchison, Captain M. L. Elliott, Captain H. H. George, Major B. Q. Jones, flight commander; Captain A. E. Waller and Major Frank Weldon, flight surgeon. The ships will resume their flight to the west today. Staff photo by Kenneth Rogers.

Candler field was the nest for 46 of Uncle Sam's war birds Wednesday night and a scene of military activity was offered curious Atlantans as 84 officers and men of the Eighth Pursuit group serviced 39 speedy combat ships and seven big transports. The planes are scheduled to take off at 5 o'clock this morning for the next night stop, at El Paso, Texas, from which point they will proceed to Riverside, Cal., for annual maneuvers.

Another group of 30 bombardment planes from Langley Field, Va., the home of the Eighth Bombardment group, is expected to arrive over Atlanta today and repeat the free air spectacle given Wednesday as the planes flew in formation over the city.

Relatives in Atlanta Concerned Over Girl

Atlanta relatives of Peggy McMath, 10-year-old Massachusetts kidnap victim, Wednesday communicated with the child's parents, as the search for her abductors was temporarily halted in order that Mrs. McMath and her children might arrange communication with the kidnapers in Harwichport, Mass.

Relatives in Atlanta include Mrs. Everett Fitch, a third cousin of the child; Mrs. Fitch's daughter, Mrs. Scott Hudson Jr., and two sons, Morgan Fitch and John Coltrane. Mrs. Fitch and her children moved to Atlanta ten years ago from Detroit, which is the winter home of Neil C. McMath and Mrs. McMath, the child's parents.

IMMUNITY PLEDGE IS SENT KIDNAPERS

HARWICHPORT, Mass., May 3.—(AP)—While a widening search for 10-year-old "Peggy" McMath spread along Cape Cod and out to sea tonight, her parents announced they would meet any reasonable ransom demand and promised immunity to the kidnapers who lured the child from a schoolroom yesterday and vanished with her.

Meantime, the family home stood unguarded, as police declared a 48-hour truce to permit the abductors to make safe contact with the parents.

The father, Neil C. McMath, former Detroit and son of Francis C. McMath, prominent engineer, banker and industrialist, issued a new appeal

Three 'Gold Robbers' Sought In Fatal Wreck of Flamingo

Possibility that the Flamingo, fast L. & N. passenger train, was wrecked deliberately near Emerson, Ga., in a daring attempt to loot an express car believed to have been carrying gold, is being investigated by railroad detectives and police, it was learned Wednesday.

This theory of the cause of the Flamingo's derailment and the loss of four lives on the night of April 17 has been advanced in a letter to the Atlanta police identification bureau from E. M. Hicks, special agent of the N. & S. L. railroad, it was learned. Hicks has forwarded to the bureau descriptions of three white men who were seen attempting to break into the sealed express car, it was said.

Pointing out that railroad reports show that the track at the point of the wreck was in perfect condition at the time of the derailment, Hicks is understood to have said that the express car, next to the engine and tender, had been used extensively in hauling shipments of gold from the south to various points over the country, and that if the wreck was caused deliberately, the plotters may have had an eye on the car as the possible container of wealth.

Sheriff G. D. Gaddis, of Bartow county, and deputy, W. J. Powell, arrived at the scene of the wreck an hour after the engine and a number of cars left the tracks, and they found three white men attempting to break into the express car, it was said. The white men escaped, but their descriptions were turned over to railroad police.

The descriptions follow: No. 1, squarely built with square jaw, 30 to 35 years old, neatly dressed, 150 pounds, medium size; No. 2, long, thin, 20 to 30 years old, medium size, well dressed; No. 3, medium size and well dressed, but slightly smaller than the other two.

House Leader Says

in Present Form.

WASHINGTON, May 3.—(AP)—For the seventh time since the government built its vast war-time power and nitrate project at Muscle Shoals, the senate today passed the Norris bill for its operation by the government with new provisions included to carry out President Roosevelt's power, navigation and flood control development of the whole Tennessee valley basin.

By the overwhelming vote of 63 to 20 the bill of Senator Norris, republican, Nebraska, was sent over to the house as a substitute for the measure passed by that body April 25 and house leaders declared the two versions would be sent to conference for adjustment of differences.

"The Norris bill is not acceptable in its entirety to the house," said Chairman McSwain, of the house military committee, which drafted the house bill.

"It has got to go to conference. There are vast differences between the two measures. We may not seek a conference at once because we want to study the changes made in the Norris bill."

"I understand Senator Norris offered more than 35 amendments to his bill. These will have to be studied."

Only three democrats—Coolidge, Gore and Tydings—and 17 republicans voted against the Norris measure, while 48 democrats, 14 republicans and Shipstead, farmer-laborite, of Minnesota, answered "aye."

Roosevelt To Reveal Railroad Plan Today

The president also plans to forward his public works program next week. It has yet to be taken up by congress. No decision has been reached on methods of financing the construction.

There is some talk of new taxes to meet the interest payments and provide for amortization of the bond issue.

Mr. Roosevelt was described today as hopeful of a congressional adjournment by the first week in June.

Four More Are Slain By Machado Soldiers

SANTIAGO DE CUBA, May 3.—(P)—The "law of flight" was applied this afternoon to four prisoners arrested following Saturday's revolt at San Luis, soldiers shooting down the quartet as they were being taken from the railroad station to the municipal prison here. They were reported to have attempted escape. Lopez Garcia was alleged to have been the leader of a band of 40 that assailed San Luis Saturday morning, killing two soldiers and the chief of police. Eleven of the band subsequently were slain in skirmishes with soldiers pursuing them.

The four, with two others, had been brought from San Luis by Corporal Isidro Gort Castaneda and two soldiers. When the alleged attempt to escape was made, Corporal Gort ordered the prisoners not to fire and shot down the quartet himself. The two remaining prisoners were taken to prison.

Civil Service Sought For County Policemen

Steps to place Fulton county policemen under civil service were initiated Wednesday by County Commissioner J. A. Ragsdale, chairman of the police committee, and rules and regulations of the civil service plan will be considered at the next meeting of the commissioners.

Frank Neely and James L. Wells, representing the Community Chest, and Samuel C. Dobbs Sr., chairman of the Grady hospital board of trustees, appeared before the commission to pledge co-operation in reference to appropriations to their agencies, expressing realization that the county's proposed plan is tied up by an injunction suit pending review by the appellate court.

A letter from the Rev. R. C. Huston, pastor of Central Baptist church, commended the four indicted members of the board, George F. Longino, Paul S. Etheridge, W. L. Gilbert and W. C. Hendrix, on their published reply to the charge of making an illegal appropriation, to a convention, and asked that the small-salaried employees be cut no more. Another letter, from the Community Home for Girls, expressed confidence in the board and pledged loyalty.

HOUSE BODY TO PROBE DUCK MAKING IN PEN

Tarver Seeks Reduction in Production of Cloth by Prison Labor.

WASHINGTON, May 3.—The house judiciary committee today appointed a special committee of five members to make a thorough survey and investigation of the manufacture of wide cotton duck at the Atlanta penitentiary.

The committee, which is made up of Representative Tarver, of Georgia, chairman; Condon, of Rhode Island; Duffy, of Ohio; Kirtz, of Pennsylvania; and Hooper, of Michigan, was appointed after the full judiciary committee had concluded hearings on the Tarver bill which provides that the manufacture of wide cotton duck at the Atlanta penitentiary be drastically reduced.

"Although the procedure to be followed by the special committee has not yet been definitely settled," said Mr. Tarver, who is author of the measure, "in all probability they will visit the Atlanta penitentiary to determine for themselves to what extent prison labor is being employed in the manufacture of wide duck. My idea is that legislation should be passed that will equalize the excessive burden now being carried by manufacturers of cotton duck. My understanding is that wide duck and shoe manufacturing are the two major industries carried on in the Atlanta penitentiary and that prison labor is manufacturing so much wide duck that their activities have become a real menace to the cotton manufacturing industry of the south."

As chairman of the special investigation committee I shall see to it that private manufacturers of wide cotton duck be given every opportunity to present their reasons why prison labor employed in the manufacture of cotton duck should be curtailed. We also shall confer with Sanford Bates, director of the bureau of the prison department of justice and with all others expressing a desire to give their views.

MRS. BUCK QUILTS CHURCH POSITION WITHOUT REGRET

NEW YORK, May 3.—(P)—Pearl S. Buck, the novelist, is quitting her life as a missionary with neither regret nor regret, she said today in her first extended pronouncement since her resignation was accepted by the Presbyterian board of missions.

"I feel just as I did before," said Mrs. Buck. "Of course I didn't know I was such a nuisance to the board before all this came up, and certainly I shouldn't want to continue a nuisance. One wouldn't like to stay with an organization that one was a nuisance to, would one?"

"You see, I never did do the evangelical sort of thing anyway. I was a teacher, and I haven't even been teaching for three years or so. I expect to go back to China, and to continue my life just where I left off, only without the formal title of missionary. By my life, I mean my writing, which takes up a great deal of my time, indeed, and my job of being a wife and a mother."

"I'm still devoted to China, and I imagine I always shall be. China is my home, and I am happy there. I'm sure all this will make no difference to me, or to my friends, or to the church at all about the tangle or its results. You see I'm still a Christian, I'm a Christian by conviction and shall continue to be one. My status as a missionary or as a lay member has nothing to do with that."

"Am I still a Presbyterian? Surely, yes, well, I don't think that's important. I don't go in for creeds and that sort of thing so very much. I'm just a Christian."

ROOSEVELT TO SEEK NEW U. S. ECONOMIES

Periodic Business Spurts
Play No Part in Mapping of Budget.

WASHINGTON, May 3.—(UP)—President Roosevelt already has slashed a billion dollars from the nation's 1933-34 expense account and moved tonight for further reductions in the hope of balancing the budget by July 1.

On the basis of present economic conditions Mr. Roosevelt placed federal revenue during the fiscal year beginning July 1 at $2,200,000,000 and expenses at approximately $2,320,000,000.

Although highly elated over prospects for increased revenue from legalized beer, the president used the figure of $150,000,000 fixed by experts some time ago in his budget estimates.

Mr. Roosevelt said he was proceeding cautiously, however, and was basing his figures on "conditions as they now are." He made it plain that there was no disposition to let periodic business spurts interfere with the serious work of estimating what amount of money will flow into the treasury for the new fiscal year.

Working with Budget Director Lewis Douglas, the president was battling away at an estimated deficit at the end of the present fiscal year of $1,949,886,448. At the end of the first 10 months of the fiscal year, April 30, the deficit stood at $1,585,625,498.

F. D. R., SOLONS DISCUSS ST. LAWRENCE TREATY

WASHINGTON, May 3.—(P)—A middle-western congressional delegation today discussed the St. Lawrence waterway treaty with President Roosevelt and later said the chief executive was anxious that the pact be ratified at the present session of congress.

A few hours later, Senator Lewis, democrat, Illinois, filed a minority report from the senate foreign relations committee opposing ratification so long as the treaty limits American diversion of water from Lake Michigan to 1,500 second feet.

FATIGUE-PROOF TIRES!

6 TIMES FORTIFIED, YET COST YOU NO MORE

No tires like these were ever built before

1. Carburized cotton—Kell-Springfield discovery. . . . Seares, expensive, far knicker than ordinary cotton. . . . Found only in these tires.
2. Gum-inforced plies—an enormous improvement in tire building. Pure rubber compounds, under tons of pressure, are forced right into the weave!
3. Only prime first rubber is used in these tires—(5 grades of raw rubber are used in ordinary tires.) Fatigue-proofs contain none of the cheaper, inferior grades.
4. Vitalized rubber tread—bigger, deeper, thicker. . . . New vulcanizing agents. . . . New secret processes. . . . Never-before-known mileage.
5. All non-skid—25% more non-skid than next best testing make—also, the most skid-free tires ever made.
6. Made by the new Monitor System—Our system of factory control that tests every material and checks and double-checks every process—then tested by mountain fleets on the world's toughest testing grounds.

OTHERS said that tires were good enough. But Kelly-Springfield engineers, responsible for seven of the great tire innovations ever made, were not satisfied. They watched all makes of tires break up under Kelly-Springfield's mountain fleets, running day and night on the world's toughest testing grounds. They found that tires, under terrific punishment, get tired, like living things—that when they tire they wear out, break down and fail.

The new Kelly-Springfield Fatigue-proof tires are the result. New processes, methods and materials enable these great new tires to resist fatigue—to stand up, and go long after ordinary tires would fail. See and study the new Fatigue-proofs, know the almost unbelievable records they are making and you will never put another dollar into a cheap-built tire.

3 TESTIFY AGAINST IOWA FARMER-MOB

One Relates Threat To Hang Jurist During Rioting and Attack.

LE MARS, Iowa, May 3.—(AP)—One of three eye witnesses to the abduction and threatened hanging of District Judge C. C. Bradley told a military court today he had heard some of the 150 to 200 men who dragged the judge from his courtroom about "Get a rope. Let's hang him."

At the same time, the witness testified, others in the mob tossed a rope over a telegraph pole and fastened it around the jurist's neck.

The three men told their story as the court martial began sifting evidence against more than 100 farmers arrested in connection with last week's riots.

The witnesses said they were passing the scene in a truck. They testified they were not part of the mob and commanded to "Get out of here. You're not part of our gang."

They said they would be able to identify several members of the mob. Names of the witnesses were withheld because of fear that friends of the prisoners might attempt reprisals.

At Denison, Judge Advocate Frank B. Hallagan, acting as legal advisor for the military court, held a "show-up" for the 40-odd prisoners held in connection with the riot at the Joseph Shildt farm near there last week.

Present were state agents, county officials and special deputies who sought to identify the men connected with the riot.

Sheriff Tilton was designated by Colonel Glenn C. Haynes, commanding officer here, to make arrests in Cherokee county, where County Attorney James Smith yesterday threatened to arrest guardsmen if they entered the county.

Military officials said that they would send troops into Cherokee county "when the occasion demands," but indicated they believed Tilton would be able to make whatever arrests were necessary.

FARMERS' HOLIDAY GROUP ASKS TROOP WITHDRAWAL

DES MOINES, Iowa, May 3.—(AP)—Demands for the withdrawal of national guard troops from northwest Iowa counties were contained in resolutions prepared for submission today to the first annual convention of the National Farm Holiday Association.

The demand, drawn up by a special committee headed by A. C. Townley, of Minnesota, called upon Governor Clyde Herring to "immediately restore civil government," and "avoid the impending catastrophe that we may struggle through this depression in peace."

DARROW JOINS DEFENSE OF 100 IOWA FARMERS

CHICAGO, May 3.—(AP)—Clarence Darrow was busy tonight studying "several points" which he plans to emphasize in defending nearly 100 Iowa farmers charged with the mobbing and abduction of an elderly judge in an attempt to halt farm mortgage foreclosures.

The noted lawyer, now 76 years old, decided to enter the case today after he said he understood that F. F. Paville, former chief justice of the Iowa supreme court, and Attorney William Holly, his colleague in other recent trials, would assist him.

DR. H. W. COX'S MOTHER DIES IN RED CLOUD, NEB.

Dr. Harvey W. Cox, president of Emory University, left late Wednesday afternoon for his old home in Red Cloud, Neb., to attend the funeral Friday morning of his mother, Mrs. Salisa Cox, who died Wednesday morning at the family home.

Mrs. Cox was 88 years old. She and her husband, the late C. C. Cox, were natives of Illinois, and pioneered in Nebraska in 1873 when the state was being opened up. She was in feeble health for several months before her death.

Mrs. Cox visited Atlanta on several occasions to see Dr. Cox, the last time about two years ago, and gained a wide circle of friends here. Dr. Cox has lived here since 1920, when he came from the University of Florida.

Mrs. Cox is survived by five sons and a daughter, all of whom live west of the Mississippi except Dr. Cox.

JOHN N. MERRILL, 84, DIES IN LAKE LAND, FLA.

John N. Merrill, 84, former Atlanta railroadman, died Saturday at Lakeland, Fla., where he lived for 16 years. Funeral services were held Sunday, with interment following at Lakeland.

Mr. Merrill retired from business several years ago after building up a battery manufacturing plant in Lakeland. While living in Atlanta he was the representative of the Burlington Route, with offices on Pryor street, as general southern passenger agent. He lived in Atlanta nearly 20 years, coming here from Illinois. Mr. Merrill was well known among railroad people.

He was a member of the Masons in Lakeland and past commander of Lakeland Commandery No. 21. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Lulu C. Merrill; two sons, Walter J. Merrill, of Lakeland, and Ralph N. Merrill, of Los Angeles; and a daughter, Mrs. L. M. Turner, of Jacksonville, and three grandchildren.

DONATIONS TO HALL COME FROM PUPILS

The Lake Clair civic organization of Duval Hills sent in a 100 per cent enrollment, according to Cator Woolford, vice chairman of the campaign.

"Roosevelt Is a Swell Fellow," Say Rookies at C. C. C. Camp Here

"Roosevelt is a swell fellow," said a member of the K. P. detail at the civilian conservation camp, Wednesday at Fort McPherson. "And that goes double for the army men. There ain't anybody hungrier around here," he continued, nonchalantly balancing a sailor cap atop his slick blond hair and selecting an onion from a huge pile. With his tentmates he was doing his detail on K. P. with a grin.

Around the huge sinks where cooking utensils were being scrubbed to shining cleanliness under the watchful eyes of Horsley, regular army cook, there was a contented hum of talk. Very like a gathering of high school pupils on opening day. One blue-eyed youngster brandishing a broom with vigor paused to display proudly his identification tag, very like the dog tags worn by the soldiers. Fashioned of brass with C. C. C. and his number stamped below, the disk was worn around his neck on a cord.

When queried as to how he got into the C. C. C., he said that "he put in for it, got looked up, and, after three medical examinations, what was left of him reported for duty." He was eager, alert, filled with future plans, and was certainly going to "reup" when his required six months was over. He hoped to go to Muscle Shoals to work for the government. The way he said "government" made one stand a bit straighter and hear afar off the sound of bugles and glimpse a proud nation in the shadow of the flag. Truly Roosevelt is a swell fellow.

There are some 250 men at the camp, the first of the 700 to be sent to Fort McPherson. Squad tents with wooden floors erected in long rows on the hillside near the Q. M. storehouse at the garrison house, the men. There are six men to a tent and army bunks, lockers and chairs are allotted the occupants. Captain David E. Wheeler, commanding officer of Company G, of the 22d infantry, is the camp commander, and under his capable supervision the camp presents a business-like appearance. He is assisted by Lieutenant Crump Garvin as mess officer and Lieutenant George Duncan as supply officer. A reserve officer, Lieutenant Hunter, of Atlanta, completes the roster of officers detailed for the camp.

There are clerks, carpenters, mechanics of various trades, cooks' assistants, painters, plumbers, butchers, bakers and candlestick makers represented in the camp's personnel. Under careful selection each man is allotted work to which he is accustomed and instruction is given in that chosen line. Questioning failed to reveal a barber among the group and various members cast an apprehensive eye at the barber's chair and small shop being rigged up for the use of the corps. Captain Wheeler relieved the suspense by the promise of a regular barber. There is a branch of the post exchange where smokes, matches, soap, tooth paste and candies may be purchased without leaving camp.

Riding Hall Used.
The mess hall and kitchen are housed in the huge riding hall and tables and benches made by the corps are arranged to seat more than 400 men. The floor is swept clean and the storeroom and kitchen would cause the most perfect housekeeper to turn green with envy. Great bins of coffee, sugar, flour, potatoes and other commodities line the shelves. Menus are prepared with careful consideration for vitamin D and E, F and G, etc. Sergeant J. C. Redd, mess sergeant of Company G, is in charge and he takes decided pride in feeding the men.

The kitchen boasts six army ranges doing a right dress in true military style. Long tables are built in the gentler and huge sinks and hot-water tanks are at the further end, with ice boxes, and storage cupboards. Breakfast is served at 7 o'clock, dinner at 12:30 and supper at 5:30 o'clock. Whenchow call sounds the men, armed with mess kits, line up and the food is served cafeteria style. They wash their mess kits following meals, and such a washing, wash, rinse, and boil. There is plenty of hot water and Captain Wheeler insists upon scrupulous cleanliness.

Following breakfast, half an hour is allowed for police of tents and camp, followed by inspection. From 8:45 until 11:45 o'clock each morning and from 2 to 4:30 o'clock each afternoon except Saturdays and Sundays, there is improvement of the camp site and the building of another camp. And they work with zest. These youngsters, whose average age ranges from 19 to 21, tackle a hard job joyfully.

The quartermaster department issues clothing for the men from the stock in hand. Flannel shirts, shoes, raincoats, trousers and stockings outfit the men for work. Additional warm clothing will be issued in cold weather. The wages are $30 each month, and they are required to send $25 home to their families. Allotments are made out to mothers, fathers, younger brothers and sisters and grandparents. An oath of enrollment is required of those entering the corps, and loyalty to the oath is expected.

TURKISH TOBACCO
comes to this country in bales. The leaves are small and tightly packed. Each bale contains about 40,000 leaves.

DOMESTIC TOBACCO
is stored in huge wooden hogsheads. Each hogshead contains about 1000 pounds of tobacco.

A flavor that neither possesses alone

Turkish tobacco is to Cigarettes what Seasoning is to Food

Early in the 17th century, tobacco seed from America was taken to Turkey. Different soil, different climate, different temperatures night and day, and different farming methods produced an entirely new tobacco—small in size, but very rich and aromatic.

This tobacco is known generally as Turkish tobacco; but there are as many varieties of Turkish as there are kinds of apples.

Four certain spots are famous for the quality of their Turkish tobacco—Xanthi and Cavalla in Greece; Samsoun and Smyrna in Turkey. And it is principally from these places that our buyers get the Turkish for Chesterfield.

These Turkish tobaccos are blended, in just the right amount, with Domestic tobaccos. It is this blending and cross-blending of just the right amount of Turkish and Domestic tobaccos which gives Chesterfield a flavor that neither possesses alone.

UNIVERSITY TO ACCEPT PORTRAITS SATURDAY

Five Pictures of Noted Figures To Be Presented by Dr. Calhoun.

ATHENS, Ga., May 3.—Oil portraits of five noted figures in the history of the University of Georgia will be unveiled here Saturday morning and presented to the university by Dr. J. Phinizy Calhoun, chairman of the memorial committee of the Georgia Alumni Society.

The portraits are of Dr. Henry Clay White, a gift of John W. Grant of Atlanta; Dr. L. H. Charbonnier, a gift of Mrs. Bowdye Phinizy, of Augusta; Brigadier General Stephen Vincent Benet, a gift of the Benet family; Chancellor Walter B. Hill, a gift of Walter C. Hill, of Atlanta, and Joseph Rucker Lamar, a gift of Harrison Jones, of Atlanta.

Dr. White joined the faculty of the University of Georgia in 1872 under Chancellor Lipscomb, when there were but 10 men on the faculty, and remained until his death in 1927. Dr. Charbonnier, after serving the university one year as adjunct professor of ancient languages, was elected in 1867 to the chair of civil engineering, which position he held until 1873, when he became head of the school of applied mathematics. In 1877 he was elected professor of natural philosophy. Stephen Vincent Benet attended the university as a member of the class of 1845. He received the degree of LL.D. from Georgetown, and graduated from the United States Military Academy at West Point. He was in the rank of brigadier general of the United States army and chief of ordnance, being the only University of Georgia man to serve in the Union cause. He is author of "A Treatise on Military Laws." He died in 1895. His grandson and namesake, the famous American poet, will present the portrait and read an original poem for the occasion.

Joseph Rucker Lamar was a schoolmate and playmate of Woodrow Wilson. He attended Martin Institute, Jefferson, Richmond Academy, Augusta, and was a student at the University of Georgia in 1874 and 1875. He was elected to the legislature of Georgia in 1886 and re-elected in 1888. In 1902 he was appointed justice of the supreme court of Georgia by Governor Terrell, which position he resigned in the spring of 1905 and returned to Augusta to engage in the practice of law. In 1910 he was appointed an associate justice of the supreme court of the United States, which position he occupied until the time of his death in January, 1916. Chancellor Walter B. Hill was born in 1851 in Georgia. He received an LL.D. degree from Emory College. He was compiler of the code of Georgia, president of the Georgia Bar Association, professor of law at Mercer University, trustee of Vanderbilt University and chancellor of the university. He died in 1905.

BANKS STUDYING MUNICIPAL AUDIT

City Awaits Clearing House Approval To Pay Long-Due Salaries.

Fate of the municipal government and the Atlanta public schools, in so far as re-establishing the city's credit and meeting month-old pay rolls for more than 4,000 employees is concerned, Wednesday rested with members of the Atlanta Clearing House Association.

Supplementary audits of the revised municipal finance sheet Wednesday were in the hands of representatives of the banks and a close scrutiny of the receipts anticipated and disbursements provided was being made.

Mayor James L. Key Wednesday refused to approve a budget for schools, which set up salaries of employees for only 11 months instead of the whole year, as provided by law.

He told representatives of the board of education that if the banks would approve it and lend money on it he would give it his official sanction.

There appeared, however, little hope that such an agreement could be reached, although Thomas W. Clift, school business manager, and W. W. Walls, chairman of council's school committee, prepared to ask the sanction of the financial institutions.

No meeting of the board of education was contemplated until the budget has been revised to include salaries for 12 months through anticipation of money from a contingent fund provided in the city finance sheet and which will go to schools "if and when collected."

The mayor suggested consolidation of Boys' and Tech High schools as an emergency move, but expressed the opinion that the board would not make any of the changes which should be made now, "because they haven't the courage."

Key in Speech Pleads For Good Government

Mayor James L. Key told the weekly sophomore forum at Emory University Wednesday that he is not in favor of beer or liquor but that he is in favor of "good government." His address was delivered to a group of students, whom he exhorted to be courageous about public matters.

"The less we have of both liquor and beer, the better off the world is, but we must accept conditions as we find them," he said. "Georgia is losing at least $1,000,000 a year through failure to legalize the sale of beer. We need that money."

Boys' Week.

Students of the Atlanta University Laboratory High school are observing Boys' Week with special exercises and speakers. Under the direction of Ernest J. Hooper and Hallie M. Beachen, librarian of the school, a program has been developed not only for the boys but for the girls as well. Today athletics will also be the subject of talks by Leola Nelson, physical director of Spelman College, and Franklin L. Forbes, physical director of Morehouse College.

Crowds Watch Jinky Cutters in Windows As Contest Opens With Its 3,000 Prizes

By THE JINKY EDITOR.

Many other stores had girls in the windows, and Atlantans were all enthused over the simplicity of the contest. Hundreds of onlookers were heard to say, "Gee, that's easy. I'm going to win some of those 3,000 prizes."

And it is easy. All you have to do is call at any of the stores giving Jinkys and Jinky receipts, and ask for some Jinkys. Take them home, and cut some designs. When you have a good one, use ten Jinky receipts to enter it in the contest.

You can get one Jinky receipt with each 25-cent purchase or payment on account at any of the stores co-operating. The first week's contest ends next Wednesday, when all Jinkys cut during the week are entered in the contest. Do not color, paint or decorate them in any way.

Just bring them to 137 Peachtree Arcade, where they will be judged. Many special prizes are being offered, and you may win one of the special prizes. Start getting a super-regular prizes as well as one of the Jinkys today.

Thomas Wilson, local railroad official, notified Harry Sommers, president of Harry Sommers Inc., Atlanta Chrysler and Plymouth dealer, on Wednesday that during the month of April he had received the largest shipment of automobiles ever made to an Atlanta dealer in the history of the business.

Mr. Sommers' agency received 48 cars in April. His sales reached a high mark of 130 units for the month. He said that this increase was for the entire line of Chrysler and Plymouth cars.

The sales were not only a tribute to the cars themselves, Mr. Sommers said, but indicated a decided increase in business optimism generally.

Delegates in Geneva Divide on Conscripts
GENEVA, Switzerland, Mar. 3.—(P)—Whether European armies in the future will be professional or conscript again split the disarmament conference today, the French and English delegates failing to induce Germany to agree to abolition of the long-term, professional reichswehr.

Count Rudolf Nadolny, German delegate, suggested a compromise under which the armies would be a mixture of professionals and conscripts but this was promptly rejected by Rene Massigli, of France, who said that such a body of troops would "constitute the most formidable offensive army of all."

Count Nadolny denied an earlier accusation of the French that the reichswehr is "an army of offense," declaring that if this were true the American and British armies were also offensive.

CHERRY L. EMERSON HEADS ROBERT & CO.

Vice President Named to Succeed New Assistant Secretary of the Treasury.

Appointment of Cherry L. Emerson, formerly vice president and chief engineer of Robert & Company, architects and engineers, as president of the company to succeed L. W. "Chip" Robert Jr., newly appointed assistant secretary of the treasury, who resigned in order to devote his entire time to service to his country and the new administration, was announced Wednesday. Jesse M. Shelton, formerly vice president, was appointed vice president and treasurer.

With the exception of the changes, it was stated, the organization of Robert & Company, in which all engineering department heads have been in their present positions for ten years or more, will remain as it has been in the past, with Captain L. W. Robert Sr., Mr. Robert's father, continuing to serve as secretary.

An assistant secretary of the treasury, in charge of the public works program of the federal government and the bureau of public health, as well as chairman of the federal purchasing board, opportunities for serving the Roosevelt administration at this critical juncture loomed so big that Mr. Robert felt it his duty to forego personal gain in order to devote his energies to the service of his country.

Mr. Emerson, the new president of Robert & Company, is one of the best known engineers in the south and has been with the company since 1919, when, after several years' separation, he and Mr. Robert, who played on the same football team at Georgia Tech, met and Mr. Robert invited him to join forces with him.

Mr. Shelton, like Mr. Robert and Mr. Emerson, also is a graduate of the Georgia School of Technology and is widely known in the architectural and engineering field.

Among the other suggestions which continued to pour in Wednesday were Farley-velt plaza, the New Deal plaza and the Hunter-Spring branch.

President of Peru Names New Cabinet

LIMA, Peru, May 3.—(P)—Oscar Benavides, chosen Sunday as president of Peru, a short time after Luis M. Sanchez Cerro had been assassinated, today swore in his cabinet.

Funeral services for the slain president will be held tomorrow. Immediately after being sworn in, the new cabinet went to Sagrario chapel, where Sanchez Cerro's body is in state, and knelt in prayer before the bier. His estate, they said, amounted only to about $30 in cash, a few inexpensive jewels and two decorations.

GOOD FEET NEED OF MARATHONERS, TRAINER DECLARES

By RALPH L. SANDERS, United Press Staff Correspondent.

The principal requirements for a marathon dancer are strong feet and practically no temper. Raleigh Drennon, trainer for endurance dancers, said Wednesday during a spirited defense of the profession.

Drennon is taking care of sore feet and muscles for the 10 couples and one man solo contestants in Atlanta's current spectacle, which, Wednesday night, passed its 1700th hour of continuous operation. Seventeen hours aren't even noteworthy as marathons go these days, but they represent almost 72 days, 10 weeks, or nearly two and half months. Sixteen and a half couples have dropped out of the competition.

"Those dancers out there don't need any sympathy," Drennon said, after protesting the attitude of some women's organizations who have opposed marathon dances in Atlanta.

"Many of them were unemployed when they entered. During the dance they're getting generous and wholesome meals regularly, regular medical treatment, as much rest as most of the young people of their age can get, and they're getting an education in the bargain."

"Despite some of the charges of physical injury," Drennon said, "opponents of marathon dances, not one of the contestants in this dance has lost weight, all but two have gained weight, and one young man gained 20 pounds."

EGG COOKING SCHOOL SCORES AT STERCH'S

Unusual interest is being shown by the many housewives attending the special demonstration of quality eggs and egg dishes prepared by Miss Katherine Lanier, state leader, special home demonstration work, and Miss Annie Kilpatrick, special home demonstration agent of the extension division, Georgia State College of Agriculture, at the cooking school which is being held at Sterch's, 118, 118 and 120 Whitehall street.

Mrs. J. A. Hardman, home economist with Sterch's, is in charge of the school which extends through Friday, opening every morning at 10:30 o'clock.

Haynes McFadden, vice president of the Georgia Bankers' Association, will open the Thursday morning session of the school. The Georgia Bankers' Association and the Federation of Women's Clubs are co-operating with the Georgia Agricultural Extension service in the promotion of a "live-at-home" program.

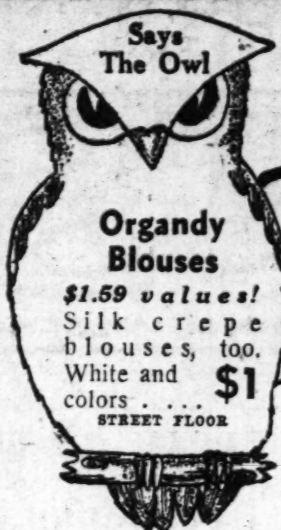

The cooking school is in celebration of national egg week. Each day a varied menu of delicious dishes containing eggs will be featured.

Messenger Blanks Travelers, 2-0, as Crackers Win Eighth

It's Derby Time in Old Kaintuck Again--Who'll Win the Race?

EN ROUTE TO LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 3.—Hoss owners who do not care for Ladysman in the Kentucky Derby, which is to be run at the Downs on Saturday afternoon along about dusk, will tell you that they do not care for W. E. Coe's favorite because they believe that blood will tell.

Ladysman's pappy was Pompey and it was Pompey who was the favorite eastern entry in 1926. This was the year that Kunnel Bradley's Bubbling Over and Bagenbaggage ran one-and-two in the Derby, with Pompey finishing out of the money.

The ground was white with the torn tickets on Pompey when the "official" was called on the race.

Hence the sticklers for the blood lines will stay away from Ladysman and will purchase their mutual tickets on some other hoss. They do not believe the favorite will stay in there for more than a mile and an eighth.

This is the first test of the year for three-year-olds over the Derby distance. There are a lot of the sprinters who stay up in front for three-quarters and a mile. And even a mile and an eighth. But there are others who are just beginning to pick them up and lay them down at this point.

It is the hoss with the heart and the lungs who wins the Derby. The Derby begins to be a hoss race when the mile is done. In the cool of the evening on Saturday it will be a stayer who can be set down at about the three-quarter pole and keep going who will be there when the finish post is reached.

It is because this is the first test of the year, with no form to go by, that so many owners are hopeful of having a long shot come through. The real form will not be attained for a month or so.

LADYSMAN'S RECORD.

Ladysman started nine times as a two-year-old. He was first five times, second twice and twice was an also-ran. Four of his five victories were in stakes and he won $11,435 to lead all juvenile winners and finish third in the list of leading money winners.

Some of the hosses have never accepted him as the two-year-old champion. He was beaten in the Futurity by Kerry Patch, who is quoted at 20 to 1 today. Catewaal beat him in the Eastern Shore handicap; Happy Gal led him to the finish in the Saratoga Special, and he trailed in behind Crownin' Glory in the Hyde Park stake.

In all his winnings Ladysman came from behind in the stretch. It was this quality which won him his support as much as any other one thing.

WILBERT ROBINSON DOESN'T LIKE HIM.

Ladysman was retired last year after the Eastern Shore handicap because of sore legs. His legs were treated during the winter and he has been working well this spring.

Your Uncle Wilbert Robinson, of the Crackers, does not care for Ladysman. He was for him until he heard about his legs. Then he switched to another choice.

"A ball player is no older than his legs, and no better than his legs," said Your Uncle Wilbert Robinson. "The same thing goes for a race hoss. A hoss is no better than his legs. If his legs have begun to go the hoss has begun to go."

Your Uncle Wilbert Robinson does not ask about any quality of his ball players except his legs. He declares he can pick a ball player by his legs.

And all he wanted to know about Ladysman was that his legs had begun to trouble him.

THE MOST VALUABLE DERBY.

Reigh Count, running in a record field of 22 starters in 1928, won the most valuable Derby in history. The victory was worth $55,375 for the Leona Farm stable, owned by Mrs. John D. Hertz, of Chicago.

The Derby is for $50,000 "added money." Of this money, added by the association, $40,000 goes to the winner, $6,000 to second place, $3,000 to third and $1,000 to fourth.

All hosses must be nominated for the Derby in the year before its running. It costs $25 to nominate a hoss for the Derby. It costs $500 to send one to the post.

ALL the nomination and entry fees go to the winner. To this is added the $40,000 for the winner. The next three get the amounts noted above.

Hence the $50,000 added money. Burgoon King, who won in a field of 20 starters last May, was worth $52,350 to Kunnel Bradley. The field is expected to be about 20 this year, late withdrawals having dissipated the possibility of a record field.

SOME NOTES ON PAST DERBIES.

The longest-price winner was Donerail, who won in 1913 and paid his backers $91 for $1. Ten Point was the favorite that year and Ten Point finished second.

There hasn't been a long shot winner since 1923, when Zev won and paid his backers 20 to 1. Kunnel E. R. Bradley has won the Derby three times. He won with Behave Yourself in 1921 and with Bubbling Over in 1926. Burgoon King made number three in last year's renewal.

Three-time winning jockeys are Isaac Murphy and Earle Sande.

The fastest time for the Derby distance was made by Twenty Grand in 1931—his time was 2:01 4-5.

Two-time winners are T. J. Nichols, George Long and H. P. Whitney.

Your guess is as good as anyone else's.

TOO BAD JINKY ISN'T ENTERED.

When we left home the Jinky was showing more speed than anything else. The town's latest fad was the greatest favorite of the year. It's too bad there isn't a Jinky in the fifth race Saturday. A sure winner!

Buford Nine Meets Bulldogs Thursday

Buford of the Northeast Georgia league will abandon league competition here for Thursday afternoon and meet the University of Georgia Bulldogs. Buford recently won over the Alpha Class of Atlanta.

The game will hold considerable interest for fans of this city, as the lineup for the leaguers will contain such names as Claude Herrin and Frank Anderson, both formerly of Oglethorpe University, and Jay Smith, ex-luminary of the Tech diamond, who also served in the big leagues.

Eddie Baxter, lately with Knoxville in the Southern league, will also be in the lineup for the home team.

Boys' High, Cadets To Meet Friday

Earl Dunlap, boxing instructor at Riverside and former Georgia Tech football and boxing star, will bring his milt-slingers here for bouts with Boys' High Friday night at the Henry Grady auditorium. Riverside has been getting a terrific pace and winning over all competition.

Boys' High, who had a strong fighting camp by downing Commercial recently, 7-1. Three of the wins were by the knockout route. If Riverside should get by Boys' High Friday night they will probably challenge Tech High for the state high school championship.

DINNER EVENT SLATED TODAY AT EAST LAKE

East Lake will open its 1933 "challenge" one-day dinner tournament at 1 o'clock this afternoon. The winners will be guests of the losers at a dinner tonight at the club.

Colonel R. P. Jones will lead one of the teams, while his celebrated son, Bobby, will captain the other. The pairings with members of Big Bob's team listed first are R. P. Jones and Forrest Adair Jr., vs. Tess Bradshaw and Charlie Black.

WISE DAUGHTER PIMLICO WINNER

NEW YORK, May 3.—(P)—With two charity days written into history, the Maryland Jockey Club's official spring meeting got under way today at Pimlico with the Everglade stable's Wise Daughter defeating seven other smart juveniles in the Nursery stakes.

The daughter of Wise Counsellor and Wise Mother, third in the Aberdeen at Havle de Grace, was the well-played favorite and she rewarded her backers by scoring a easy triumph.

Buddy Hanford had the filly well in hand as she passed the judges four lengths clear of C. V. Whitney's High Gle. Hooligan, another Whitney colt, earned the show award, finishing a half length back of his stablemate.

Backers of the Everglade silks received $4.50 for $2, while the owner of the stable won $37,700. Mrs. John D. Hertz's Pair by Pair, out of the money only six times in 23 starts last year, returned to the races with his 1932 speed and speeded for the six-furlong Mount Washington handicap.

After getting the most pace, he just managed to nose out Merry on May, with Con Amore, the choice, third.

The Whitney silks also were forced to take second money in the Churchill Downs one-and-a-half-mile feature when E. R. Bradley's Bob Sled drove home a handy winner over Whitney's Gyro and four other high-grade natters. C. E. Hamilton's Edith was third.

Gettling only one hit in four times at bat, Sam West yesterday again failed to capitalize on his opportunity in the American league. Although the hit 1-30 was a home run, the St. Louis Browns' outfielder's batting average dropped 17 points to .388. He was the only member of the big six to get into action, all of the others being either because of rain or cold weather.

Hack and Barton Released by Cubs

CHICAGO, May 3.—(P)—The Chicago Cubs trimmed their roster to 23 today by releasing Stanley Hack, utility infielder, and Vince Barton, outfield reserve, to Albany of the International league. It was Barton's third release by the Cubs since he was acquired from Baltimore during the regime of Rogers Hornsby.

Young Hack came to the Cubs in 1931 for a reported price of $40,000 from Sacramento of the Pacific Coast league.

RED LUCAS BOWS TO BRAVES, 6-4, IN FIRST LOSS

Extra Base Hits Decide Only Game in National.

BOSTON, May 3.—(P)—Extra base hits off the bats of Walter Berger, Wes Schulmerich and Wilfred Knothe today conquered Red Lucas for the first time this season and gave the Boston Braves a 6-4 victory over the Cincinnati Reds in the only game played in the National league.

Going into the eighth, Lucas was well on the way to his fourth victory when a Randy Moore, whose triple had led to the Braves' first run in the fourth, cracked out a single. Berger followed with a triple and in rapid succession Knothe and Schulmerich hit home runs.

Ben Cantwell held the Reds at bay until the seventh inning, when they scored twice without getting a hit. Two bases on balls, an error by Knothe and an outfield fly tied the count. The Reds went out in front in their half of the eighth, scoring two runs on four singles, only to have the Braves stage their extra base rally in the last half of the frame.

In addition to losing his first game of the season, Lucas also gave his first base on balls, passing Moore in the sixth. The walk led to the Braves' second run as Berger and Hogan followed with successive singles to send Moore across the plate.

'Robby' Promises Fans To Keep Club in Race

Declares He Will Not Sell Good Players and Weaken Team; Wants Winner All Time.

By Jimmy Jones.

That old-time refrain, "Take me out to the ball game," having been popular once more with Atlanta baseball fans, Your Uncle Wilbert Robinson, the man partially responsible for it all, is anxious to keep it so.

Therefore it wasn't at all surprising yesterday when the grand old gent from Dover Hall came out flatfootedly with the announcement that none of the Crackers' present up and coming stars would be peddled to higher-up clubs this season, if he can help it.

"A lot of the fans are worried about us selling McKee and Sington. Well, you can say for me that we're going to keep those two boys and all the rest around until we get baseball back on its feet here. Besides, they can use another year or so's experience and be worth even more money."

"What we want to do is maintain a winning ball club. . . that's the big idea in baseball, not so much selling ball players."

Uncle Robby added that there was a pitcher or so on the club that might be sold in the fall if the price was right, but that no player would not be dispensed with who could not be immediately replaced. In the cases of Sington and McKee, he believes, but pair will not be so easy to replace next spring when he begins lining up his 1934 outfield.

Consequently, he considers it worth more to the club to keep them unless an unusually high price is offered for the pair.

DRAFT FEARED.

What Uncle Robby is guarding most alertly against is the possibility of either youngsters being caught in the draft. He sees a safeguard of this, however, in the new major-league agreement which sets the draft price on players from Class A leagues at $1,000 and those from Class B leagues at $800.

Furthermore, after one player has been drafted no major or double-A club can tamper further with one's roster.

Of course, Robby doesn't care to lose either player in the draft when a couple more seasons, he figures they will be worth a cool $10,000 each or maybe more.

"What we're after is building up a winner in Atlanta and my experience has been that the proper way to do this is to keep your good ball players and let the other fellow worry about getting his portly president declared. Consequently when the next spring rolls around, you can count on your Uncle Robby to be well heeled in playing."

This, in spite of the fact that there has been a convergence of scouts on the premises at Ponce de Leon to look at Sington and a few other youngsters such as McKee and Butcher.

On his return from Charlotte, where he went to see about his "other" club and to investigate the possibilities of Sunday baseball there, Uncle Robby was in the gayest of spirits.

He revealed himself as a real man of the people when he refused to let a couple more seasons, he figures they will be worth a cool $10,000 each or maybe more.

LOAN OF WEIS SEEN IF PLAYER IS NOT NEEDED

Robby Thinks He Ought To Be Playing; Can Reclaim Him.

By Jimmy Jones.

A possibility that Art Weis, extra Class A outfielder of the Atlanta Crackers, will be loaned to another Southern league club for the rest of the season, provided the present Cracker outfielder continues to prove himself surplusage, was admitted by President Wilbert Robinson yesterday.

The Southern league formerly had a ruling against the lending of players, but it was waived this year to permit emergency aid for a certain club that was not deemed able to purchase additional help.

DUDLEY LOOKS O. K.

"Weis is a good ball player and really ought to be playing for some team; if we can't use him, I'm not going to keep him suspended, for that doesn't do a player any good," Robinson stated. "It is understood that Birmingham wants first call on Weis if he is put out, since that club needs outfielders and is not in position to buy them."

Robinson pointed out that if one of the Crackers' present outfielders should go off to another club, it could still call on Red Barron, who is always handy. He had hoped to keep Weis around all year, but sees little chance of it unless the Southern league co-operates with him in his fight to carry an extra player.

If Weis is loaned out, he can be recalled next spring. It is understood that Birmingham wants first call on Weis if he is put out, since that club needs outfielders and is not in position to buy them."

Palmer Urges Federal Loans For Aid of Business Properties

Atlanta Outlines Plans Before U. S. C. of C. at Washington Meeting.

WASHINGTON, May 3.—Proposing a fifty-million dollar corporation to aid rehabilitation of business properties, Charles F. Palmer, of Atlanta, Wednesday told a round-table conference at the convention of the United States Chamber of Commerce that "business buildings are as much going-concerns as manufacturing plants." He proposed that the corporation would receive money through the Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

"This corporation," said Mr. Palmer, "would make loans for self-liquidating rehabilitation of business properties on a non-profit basis. Properties would be secured by income as the farmer's seed loans, with a minimum loan of $1,000. Each application would be analyzed by some group, such as the building planning service council of the national association of building owners and managers."

Regarding the owner, Mr. Palmer proposed that "he would furnish 5 per cent of the needed capital, the manufacturer 15 per cent and the remaining 80 per cent would be sought from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation. Loans would be liquidated over a period of 1 to 20 years, covered by the magnitude of the jobs, and ability to pay and the useful life of the improvement. The Reconstruction Corporation money would be the first repaid and the last to go into the work."

Mr. Palmer explained the money obtained through the organization would be used to modernize business buildings, which, during the last four years, have depreciated. He proposed that the body would be known as the Rehabilitation Finance Corporation, and

Man Struck With Ax In Excitement at Fire

L. R. Hyde, 33, of 7 Homestead street, Hapeville, was treated at Grady hospital Wednesday night for lacerations about the head received when he was struck by an ax thrown, according to reports, when Hyde and neighbors attempted to arouse the family of W. S. Lupo, of Hapeville, whose home was on fire.

Attracted to the fire by the barking of dogs, neighbors attempted for some time to awaken the occupants of the house. In their efforts someone threw an ax which struck Hyde. He was taken to Grady, where he was treated and dismissed. Occupants of the burning house were finally aroused and escaped unharm.

that the group would be set up along lines satisfactory to the R. F. C. as a means of obtaining that body's assistance.

Extending his point regarding the "going-concern-business," Mr. Palmer said hotels, department stores, office buildings and theaters are designed for long-time operation, "because recent disastrous experiences have shown they cannot be used as speculative commodities."

Mr. Palmer said because parallel railway lines are wasteful and unnecessary, a law covering that principle is now being enacted.

"Real estate improvement loans," said Mr. Palmer, "can be safe-guarded by similar legislation. It is in the public interest that a certificate of necessity be issued by properly constituted authority before any major commercial building is erected. There is no more justification for the addition of an office building or a hotel to a city now glutted with adequate facilities than for construction of parallel railroads."

Citing his point, Mr. Palmer said certificates of necessity issued from 1924 to 1928 would have completely forestalled the boom of production which at that time took place.

New Primary Act Hit As Unconstitutional

Atlanta's new primary act Wednesday was attacked by the city democratic executive committee as being unconstitutional on the ground that, while the caption says the bill is intended to regulate primaries, the text creates officers for a political organization and sets up "unreasonable qualifications." The attack was made in a denunciation of the act brought by candidates who seek to force the committee to hold an election of committeemen in the September primary.

The committee also charged that, while the caption provides regulations for primaries in all cities, the text limits application of the act to cities with more than 200,000 population. Judge John D. Humphries postponed hearing on the petitions until Friday morning. The plaintiffs are W. H. Howell, third ward; J. A. Harper, third ward, and Robert Goodman, thirteenth ward.

Two Bandits Get $101 At Downtown Store

Newark Shoe Store, at 46 Marietta street, was held up and robbed of $101 Wednesday night by two well-dressed white men, both of whom were armed. The loot included $10 in cash from M. R. Keating, manager, of 536 Boulevard, N. E., and $90 from W. K. Stanley, clerk, of 830 Ponce de Leon.

According to police reports, Keating and Stanley were taken to the basement of the store by the two men and bound and gagged. Both of the men were described as being between 28 and 30 years old, while one had red and the other dark hair.

Capone 'Celebrates' 1st Anniversary in Pen

"They'll never get Capone," the "wise" boys said back in the days when Al's future seemed bright as the king of underworld Chicago.

Al will be out in a short time, you watch," they opined when the stern arm of the federal government clapped Mr. Capone in the penitentiary for income tax violation.

These predictions seem to have been without foundation. Capone is "celebrating" his first anniversary in the McDonough road-federal institution Wednesday. His appeal on a writ of habeas corpus is pending in federal circuit court.

ROPER REPORT SHOWS IMPROVED BUSINESS

Upward March of Commodity Prices Continues, Survey Reveals.

WASHINGTON, May 3.—(AP)—A definite improvement in the business situation during the past week was reported today by Secretary Roper on a basis of compilations showing continued rises in the commodity markets and improved industrial activity.

The secretary cited the continued upward march in commodity prices, asserting that one well-known unofficial index of wholesale prices reached the highest point of 1933 last week in the widest advance for any single week since the depression started.

Retail sales were sustained at a relatively high level in many parts of the country, he said, and brisk buying in wholesale markets surpassed seasonal expectations in some lines.

He cited the rise of 12 points during the month in the rate of steel operations as the most fundamental of recent changes, with some mills for the second consecutive week operating above the level of a year ago.

Further stepping up of automotive schedules was said by the secretary to have brought the estimated output for April and the first four months of 1933 above a year ago.

5 ROAD ENGINEERS HIT BY TALMADGE of the employees. "I have had delegations from several sections complain of bad roads. These roads are directly chargeable to the engineers I have singled out."

The governor said that one road near Summerville not two years old is having to be repaved.

The highway department bought a private toll bridge between Barley and Ludowici nearly two years ago and closed the bridge," the chief executive said. "The engineer for the area is at fault. The people of the area now must go 20 miles out of their way because of this action. I had ample reason for dismissing all of these men."

The engineers ordered dismissed include Engineer B. P. McWhorter. All are still on the job and, like other employees, have not been paid since April 1.

Captain Barnett said Wednesday that the department is proceeding with plans to lay off about 200 employees and make other retrenchments.

"We are going to do our best under the circumstances," the board chairman said.

The governor said Wednesday that he "had no idea" of attempting to name the successors of the men he has ordered dismissed.

"The highway commissioners in a statement Tuesday said I wanted to get my own appointees in the places of the men over whom we are in controversy," the governor said. "That idea never entered my head. I know that under the law I cannot fill the jobs. That's up to the commission."

nation and the world and to preserve reasonable prices.

Henry I. Harriman, president, and General Sweeney, chairman of the commerce today that self-imposed regulation was the way out. These two national business chieftains pointed also to the trade association agreement.

"Shall it be done," asked Swope, who is head of the General Electric Company, "by the government with its necessarily more rigid procedure and therefore less efficiency, or shall it be done by industry itself, which knows its problems intimately, taking the initiative and leadership, with the co-operation of the government to see that the public interest is protected?"

Mr. Roosevelt has not disclosed his attitude but every indication is that he will look favorably upon the government co-operation plan as a first trial.

Proposals for organization of a war industries board to take complete control over industry have been laid aside by the unofficial committee working at the capitol, headed by Senators Wagner, democrat, New York, and La Follette, republican, Wisconsin.

WALLACE TO DELAY ALLOTMENT ACTION

Method's Full Administration To Be Withheld Until Next Year.

WASHINGTON, May 3.—(AP)—Plans for administration of the farm relief bill contemplate employment of the domestic allotment method this year on only an abbreviated scale, if at all.

It was learned today that Secretary Wallace hopes to make fuller use of the method—one of many ways in which the bill empowers him to attack the farm problem—in 1934, and that whatever use is made of it during the current crop season will be mainly a test of its possibilities for farm production control.

As a result, efforts have been intensified by President Roosevelt's agricultural aids to increase outlets of American farm products abroad, with R. G. Tugwell, assistant secretary, now devoting most of his time to this.

Supplementing the administration's general program for increasing trade through reciprocal tariff agreements, the department of agriculture has under consideration plans for attempting to open up new markets for farm products. Wallace is reported to feel that the possibilities for exporting farm goods to many nations have been neglected in recent years, particularly in the orient.

The allotment plan, which involves the levying of processing taxes and the payments from these of benefits in the form of leases or bounties to farmers for acreage reduction, will require considerable machinery to operate. Wallace regards it as a sound approach to the problem of overproduction in farms and as a means of improving prices.

INSTALLMENT XVII

The two men stared at each other a moment, then Dillon said, "I suppose, sir, you mean, I was—waiting to see if anything developed from the fearful accusations Madame Malden made against her son's wife. Yes, that was partially the reason."

"Good for you, Dillon," Perilla said. "You owned up bravely. What do you say, Mr. Stone?"

"I advise you to take this man on trial. Say, a week or a fortnight. How's that, Dillon?"

"Quite all right, sir. Shall I report tomorrow, Madame?"

"Yes, Dillon, unless I change my mind. Leave your address and telephone call with Norris. You may go."

He left the room, and Perilla turned questioning to her caller.

"I rather hated in, Mrs. Malden," he smiled, "but it would help amazingly to have that man around for a few weeks. And something tells me you'll like him well enough to continue to employ him."

"I shouldn't wonder," Perilla rejoined. "Dad took to him at once. And you propose to utilize him?"

"I shall have to utilize anyone I can fasten on to. Now here's another thing. Is your staff sufficiently in order to have a dinner party or a bridge game now and then? Of course, I know you're not entertaining, but it is imperative that I meet these people we've spoken of as soon as possible. So I thought a small, informal affair would be convenient for you and cause no comment, especially as Miss Sheldon is coming and you'll have to entertain her a little."

"Yes, indeed, Mr. Stone. I don't propose to shut myself up, Corey wouldn't want me to."

"Very well, then. As soon as Miss Sheldon gets here give her a small welcoming party, and invite me."

"I shall not disagree you, and my investigation I may make will be entirely unsuspected."

"I have thought of a trip to California by motor—"

"Good! Do that, but not until a little later. I can soon divide the people I want to follow up from those who do not interest me."

"Hilda arrives tomorrow. Suppose I have a small bridge supper some night early next week."

"Capital! I'll make out the list. He jotted down some names on a slip of paper. "And for heaven's sake," he went on, "don't conclude I think these are all criminals!"

Nearly a week later Fleming Stone sat thinking in his study. The Malden matter, at the present stage, was the most baffling and absolutely inscrutable proposition he had ever been up against.

Nothing to it, he growled to himself. Man dead, nobody could possibly kill him except his wife and she wouldn't. If ever I trusted the love and faith of a human being it's that youngster, Perilla.

It can't have been a natural death; all the evidence is against that. No sign of poison; no symptoms of poisoning. Unless it was given him at the festivities they attended that day. I wonder what poisons act later on, and not immediately.

I wonder if any of the Richmond people could get at him while he was in the hotel. Of if he had any enemies in Richmond who would go so far as to kill him. Or if his mother had a hand in it. She's far more likely to be a murderer than that adoring and adorable bride.

Then there are the people at the Washington tea and the dinner. Suppose one of them had it in for Malden, and had vowed to kill him in his happiest moment. Well, how did he do it? That's for me to find out. And I could find it out if I knew or had any idea it had happened.

So, my work is cut out for me. I must make bricks without straw, an ounce without eggs. I'll do it, of course, but how begin?

Just then Mr. Garth was announced, and Stone, glad enough to see him, greeted Perilla's Philadelphia lawyer warmly.

The small and informal bridge supper had taken place at Perilla's the night before and both men had been there. Also Jane Latimer and Hilda, together with Bob Coles, Gaskell and Malcolm.

It was a pleasant gathering, without being gay, and Stone had devoted his time to studying the others, without appearing to do so. To his own surprise, he had taken a decided liking to young Coles, who had evinced no undue interest in Perilla, though he was thoughtful and kindly in any way possible.

"What do you think of the Coles boy?" Stone asked.

"He's not a bad sort, I've known him for years. Dad over Mrs. Malden. Sort of moth and star case."

"A year or so. Did you glean anything from your observations?"

"Clean is the word! It was like gleaming in a stubble field. Nobody said anything or did anything that most disinterested mortal couldn't say, for the whole world to hear!"

"You didn't expect some one to blurt out an incriminating speech, did you?"

"Well, yes, I did, and one came pretty near it."

"Who?"

"Never mind for the moment; likely as not I'm mistaken. Do you know anything of medicine?"

"No, law is my only study. But Corey Malden was as sound as a pippin."

"What killed him, then?"

"Between you and me, I think he was put out of the way, only there's no possible way that could have happened."

"If a thing did happen, there must be a way it could happen. And if we consider foul play, we must consider motive."

"Motive is legion, with all that money at stake. By the way, what about the woman who stole the diamond necklace from their Washington hotel?"

"She's faded out. They're chasing her in Washington, but it wasn't a diamond necklace. Malden had a duplicate made in paste, same time he had the real one made. I dug that up from the jeweler's people. It was the imitation the visitor made away with."

"Corey had some enemies in Washington," Garth spoke slowly. "I don't mean actual enemies, but men who were not really friendly with him."

"Why not?"

"Dunno, exactly, but some club matter. Hardly a reason for a murder, though."

"That's the worst of the thing, the topography is read all over. One can't jump from Washington to Richmond and back to New York all the time."

"Unsuspected heart trouble and let it go at that? What else can it be?"

"The doctors say so. What can you assume, suspect or guess?"

"Only murder by person or persons unknown."

"Then you're no longer interested in the heart with the victim?"

"Yes, I am. I'm interested in everything about him. Do you know anything you haven't told me?"

Garth looked uncertain. Stone knew he had in mind something very definite, but wasn't quite sure he wanted to tell it.

"I'm assuming you want to help Lady Perilla as much as I do, and that you're deterred by some reason of policy. Better be frank."

By JOHN P. BOUGHAN.
CHICAGO, May 3.—(P)—In excited dealings that for wheat alone totaled about 100,000,000 bushels, all grains went skyrocketing today on house approval of the Roosevelt inflation program.

When closed irregular, 1-8 off to 1-2 up, compared with yesterday's finish: corn 7-8 to 13-8 advanced, oats at 1-4 to 5-8 gain, and provisions showing a rise of 5 to 15 cents.

Corn developed independent strength owing to talk of congress taking favorable action on proposed alcohol-gasoline legislation, estimated to mean 120,000,000 bushels increased use of corn. Oats followed corn.
Provisions advanced with hog values and with grains.

NEW YORK, May 2 (AP) —

NEW YORK, May 5.—(AP)—
 43 ratio movements featured the Curb
 57 market today.
 58 From early steadiness the main
 61 body of shares worked into higher ter-
 62 ritory, but many advances were re-
 63 duced or erased under last-hour realiz-
 64 ing.
 65 Oils were inclined to heaviness all
 66 day. The increases in crude oil pro-
 67 duction in the east Texas and Okla-
 68 homa sectors were bearish factors.

Utilities were firm at times, but finished little better than steady. Electric Bond & Share advanced more than a point at one time, but this was erased in the late trading.

Among industrials Acme Steel and Parker Rust Proof each closed 2 points higher. Newmont Mining advanced nearly as much. Transfers today amounted to 485,000 shares compared to a turnover of 387,000 shares yesterday.

Brokers' Views

STOCK OPINIONS.

FENNER, BEANE & UNGERLEIDER--
The market background, on the whole, appears favorable for further extension of an advancing trend of stock prices established in recent weeks, with only the immediate element of uncertainty remaining. And whether the present corrective phase has been fully completed. "We continue to feel that there is room for a reaction in the stock market, but the important buying power shown in the last few days should act as a warning against too pessimistic a view for the moment."

CO. Although stocks were well absorbed in the sell-off Wednesday, we feel that until the situation clarifies itself, commitments should be on a quick-turn basis.

COURTS & CO.—We believe prices

96 should be made for quick trading recessions.

COTTON OPINIONS.

61 FENNER, REANE & UNGERLEIDER.
18 We are not adverse to accepting short profits
73 on periods of strength, but have by no
18 means abandoned our idea that cotton will 83 score further sharp gains in the near future.

HEARD BROTHERS & CO. TO DOBBS
231 & CO.—The market gives indications of being 89 tired and on any unfavorable news a
81 sharp reaction can take place.

COURTS & CO.—It is better doubtless to wait for declines before commitments, in the expectation of a renewal of bullish activities and higher markets later on.

GRAIN OPINIONS.

FENNER, BEANE & UNGERLEIDER—
We feel that the rapidity of the advance during the past 10 days justifies acceptance of profits and to await a reaction to reinstate holdings.

Week's Seventh Bomb Rocks Chicago Dairy

CHICAGO, May 3.—(AP)—The seventh bombing of the week shook a dairy plant early today a few hours after police learned that 1,000 sticks of dynamite and 2,200 feet of fuse had been stolen from the plant of an explosive plant, apparently by racketeers.

The dynamite, weighing 500 pounds, was stolen, Chief of Detectives William Schoemaker revealed, last week-end from the powder magazine of the Burton Explosive Company, near Lemont, Ill.

This morning's explosion did little damage except to a door and windows of the Galloway-West Company, Inc., and brought forth a statement by an official that no labor or union troubles had been experienced.

McKee Retires From Politics To Head Financial Concern

By ROBERT ST. JOHN.
NEW YORK, May 3.—(AP)—Joseph V. McKee, whom anti-Tammany forces hoped to elect mayor in November, retired from politics today to head the Title Guarantee & Trust Co.

"This step marks complete elimination of myself from politics and governmental office," his statement said.

In Washington, where he had gone to deliver an address, the outspoken Tammany critic was asked if the retirement meant he was "disgusted with politics."

"You're selling me!" he replied, without a trace of a smile.

In his formal statement accepting the post left vacant by the death of Clinton D. Burdick in one of the oldest and largest title insurance companies in the world, McKee wrote: "Leadership in politics under our party system is hemmed in by party limitations. . . I believe I can be of greater service to the community now as a disinterested citizen."

Mrs. Vasco Pleased By Operation Result

NEW YORK, May 3.—(AP)—Little Helen Vasco will go home Friday to a mother who now is convinced the operation which removed the child's left eye was "all for the best."

Mrs. Vasco, of Hastings-on-Hudson, who had opposed the operation so bitterly that a high court had to order it, visited the little girl at a hospital here.

Judge George W. Smyth, of Westchester children's court, who originally ordered the operation, said the mother was happy and satisfied.

The operation was ordered because physicians said a malignant tumor behind the eye would soon penetrate the brain and kill the girl.

er's term. The organization passed McKee by, and named John P. O'Brien, a loyal Tammany member, who was easily elected. But in that election McKee, although not even a candidate, received a "write-in" vote of nearly a quarter of a million.

Formerly United States Representative Fiorello LaGuardia, republican candidate for mayor in 1929, who recently said he would support McKee if the latter would run on an anti-Tammany ticket, announced tonight he would issue a statement in a few days. He is considered a possible majority candidate.

Hot Weather Suggestion!

Let us take off all your tires, inspect for any hidden injuries; water test your tubes, check flaps, clean rust off of rims, paint rims with rust-resisting graphite paint, remount. Hot summer weather causes blow-outs. This inspection is Free!

It's news when anyone builds a better tire for the price than the 17 million Pathfinders which have already made a great name for thrift. It's double news when anyone can give more safety, more style, more mileage than Pathfinders ever gave before, and at a lower price! But that's exactly what Goodyear has done in the new 1933 Pathfinder—a tire that's certainly built and priced in tune with the times. It will pay you to look it over, because you'll see for yourself that it has more actual quality than many top priced tires of other makes—and it certainly gives more for your money than any tire selling for less.

BELGIAN BEAUTY CROWNED QUEEN OF APPLE FETE

WINCHESTER, Va., May 3.—(AP)—Hailed by thousands as their sovereign ruler in a beautiful but fleeting dynasty, Miss Francoise May, daughter of the Belgian ambassador, Paul May, was crowned "Queen Shenandoah, the Tenth" at the annual Shenandoah Apple Blossom festival here today.

The queen, wearing a gown of deep pink satin with a long court train, was crowned by Secretary of War George Dern.

Amid the tumultuous cheers of her subjects massed on the 72-acre campus of the Handley High school, the queen descended the stairway from the school porch to take the royal oath and to receive her crown. Thirty-two princesses from colleges of Virginia, West Virginia, Maryland and the District of Columbia, together with maids of honor, lent color to the ceremony.

Massachusetts Military Academy cadets of Woodstock, in full dress uniforms of gray, acted as a guard of honor, while girls of the Harrisonburg State Teachers' College Glee Club, clad in gold-trimmed Grecian robes of white, sang coronation anthems.

The sun, hidden by clouds since daybreak, broke through half an hour before the time set for the ceremony and flooded the school grounds.

FIRST LADY, FRIEND IN PENNSYLVANIA ON "MYSTERY" TRIP

They came here from Westminster, Md., and apparently were proceeding toward Harrisburg, Pa.

MRS. ROOSEVELT LEAVES ON MYSTERY VACATION
WASHINGTON, May 3.—(AP)—Behind the wheel of an open sports car, Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt left today on a springtime holiday tour.

The destination was unannounced, but she will arrive in New York in time for the farewell testimonial dinner to Ruth Bryan Owen, minister to Denmark, next Tuesday night.

President Roosevelt's summer plans so far include only a cruise to Eastport, Maine, which he hopes to make with his sons early next month.

It is the intention of the president to return to the capital from there after a brief visit on board the new cruiser Indianapolis. He expects to make a trial run with the cruiser from Eastport to Baltimore.

Probably in August the president will go up to his Hyde Park (N. Y.) home for a couple of weeks.

NEW YORK'S HARBOR STILL FOG-SWATHED

NEW YORK, May 3.—(AP)—After a slight break which permitted the White Star liner Majestic finally to reach her pier 20 hours late, fog settled over New York harbor again today.

The Majestic had remained fog bound outside Sandy Hook most of yesterday.

The Bremen, leaving her Brooklyn pier at midnight, did not get out of the harbor until 7 a. m.

Beer Sold on Property Of Church Causes Row

NASHVILLE, Tenn., May 3.—(AP)—Complications arose here today over sale of 3.2 beer on property owned by the board of missions of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South.

It is being sold in a restaurant owned by Domenico Petrucci, located in a downtown office building belonging to the board.

"A clause in our contract prohibits him from selling any intoxicating liquor or beverage," said Dr. J. E. Rawls, treasurer of the board. "And we're going to protect ourselves."

Petrucci said, however, that "the lease merely provides that I operate a legitimate restaurant business, and that's what I'm doing."

"I'm going to continue to sell 3.2," he added.

The matter will be submitted to the board at a meeting here May 9 and 10, officials said.
